From Colonial Families of New England:

The family was of modest social and economic status in the Ipswich Chebacco community. Seth served in the militia as required, and held his share of public offices, including some his father had held. He was a deacon and elder in the church.

In his will Story stated "all my Utensils of husbandry and all my Carpenters Tools I give To my Two...Sons Zachariah & Seth Equally between them. The sons also inherited most of the property. Four daughters were alive at the time also.

His house was researched and dismantled in 1957 by the Henry Francis du Point Winterthur Museum of Winterthur, Delaware, where the hall (first-floor room) is on exhibit.

Served under Major Samuel Appleton in King Philip's War with the rank of sergeant. Was a deacon at the Second Church in Chebacco.

Notes for William Story:

[Stearns book]

"William Story, carpenter, came from Norwich, Norfolk, England, in 1637, as a servant of Samuel Dix, being then twenty-three years old. He embarked April 8, 1637, and settled at Ipswich, Massachusetts. A deed on record shows that he sold a lot of land in Ipswich previous to February 12, 1643, to William Knowlton. He purchased two lots of land adjoining other land of which he was then possessed, January 1, 1655. He was a subscriber to Major Denison in 1648, and owned a share and a half in Plum Island in 1664. In 1679 he was a voter in town affairs, and at that time was called William, Sr. He was a surveyor of highways in 1662, and was also called carpenter. The records show that he was possessed of land in Chebacco, November 10, 1652, this land adjoining John Webster on the northwest. On May 8, 1649, he purchased a farm of ninety acres from Henry Archer, which land had been granted by Archer by the town of Ipswich, and lying beyond Chebacco Falls. In 1671 he had permission to operate a mill on the Chebacco river, and in February, 1672, Abraham Perkins complained against him for taking a lot of green "ole timer" which he drew from the farm of said Perkins on the south side of Chebacco river "either off the commons or my farm.""
